

These illustrations are all from an old health book & a primer that I bought at the Goodwill store for 10 cents; the book was falling to bits and so I convinced myself that I could cut up the remaining pages. How simple and uncomplicated the world appears in these illustrations, of which I am, d'ailleurs, very fond.

During my visit with RGT & Son, I asked him about how I would get rid of my (our) Chevy Nomad. He suggested getting a tune up and then selling the car through the Paper Shop. RGT believes that the car can be put in sale-able condition for under $100.00. That would be very acceptable. I would like to get rid of it.
